This hybrid is the most vigorous and uniform of the Delphinium cultivars and has the sturdiest stems. Blooming early to midsummer in stately spires of spectacular vivid blue semi-double florets, each with a pure white "bee" (center), it attracts hummingbirds, bees, and butterflies. Tightly packed on sturdy stems, the flowers make attractive, long-lasting cuts for the vase.

Immediately trimming spent stems to the base encourages rebloom later in autumn.
