A magnificent spring-flowering shrub, featuring pink trumpet-shaped flowers, attractive to hummingbirds, and creamy-white variegated green foliage; somewhat coarse and open in habit; full sun to part shade.

This shrub should only be pruned after flowering to avoid removing any of the current season's flowers. It is a good choice for attracting hummingbirds. It has no significant negative characteristics.

It prefers to grow in average to moist conditions and should not be allowed to dry out. It is not particular as to soil type or pH.
